CONGRESS READY TO MEET STRIKE SITUATION

2 MEASURES PROPOSED BY HARDING TO BE PUSHED THROUGH

Federal Commission to Investigate Every Phase of the Coal Mining Industry in Hopes that Such Inquiry Will Induce Permanent Peace

Senate Resumes on Wednesday; Foreign Relations Committee Considering Legislation to Protect Treaty Rights of Aliens

By United Press

Washington, Aug. 21.—Steps were being taken in congress today to push through two of the measures recommended by President Harding for meeting the strike situation.

The house was prepared to pass this week a bill setting up a federal commission to investigate every phase of the coal mining industry in the hope that such an inquiry will lay the basis for permanent peace in this strike beset industry. Such a bill was to be introduced today by Chairman Winslow of the interstate commerce committee and this probably will be accepted as the model on which the house will take action.

Although the senate is taking a rest until Wednesday from the long tariff grind, the foreign relations committee met to prepare a proposal for legislation giving federal courts power to protect the treaty rights of aliens so that the federal government could intervene and punish those responsible for violations such as the Herrin massacre.

The bill of Senator Kellogg which incorporates the president's suggestion may be reported favorably today or tomorrow, but it is not probable that the senate will act on it until next week after the soldier bonus has been disposed of.

Senator Borah, chairman of the senate labor committee, said today he would try to get the labor committee together tomorrow to take up his bill providing for a fact finding agency in the coal industry. Borah's bill has been endorsed by the White House as having in general what the president desires in the way of legislation to secure reliable facts regarding how much money the coal operators are making, whether wages are right, and whether prices are reasonable.

Because the senate has pledged to take up the bonus Wednesday, actual steps toward working out legislative programs asked by Harding will be left to the house this week; but all the house intends to do, under present plans of republican leaders, is to pass the coal investigating bill.

Country's Concern is Peace

Washington, Aug. 21.—This country's concern is peace and the securities of peace, President Harding declared today in an address to 1,000 citizen soldiers being reviewed back of the White House.

"There is no thought of armed warfare, and no design to carry on armed campaigns in any direction," Harding said, explaining efforts of the government to induce the young men of the country to enter soldier training camps.

150,000 Men to Work Soon

Philadelphia, Aug. 21.—With hard coal industries up state prepared for resumption of mining, anthracite miners and operators held separate meetings here today each to outline their maximum concessions in the hope of reaching an agreement to end the strike today at a joint conference.

The shortest gaps remained to be bridged. Men and owners were agreed upon a contract which will send more than 150,000 miners back to work within a week. All that remains to be agreed upon is the length of time this contract is to run, and whether the entire matter of wages shall be put up to an arbitration board.

Both sides at the morning meetings were known to be straining to meet the other half way with reports abroad that a compromise on the question of arbitration had been found.

Coal Industry Investigation

Washington, Aug. 21.—A bill authorizing full investigation of the coal industry—as demanded in President Harding's message to congress—was drawn up by Representative Winslow, chairman of the house interstate commerce committee after a conference with the president today.

The bill provides for appointment of some five to nine members of the commission by the president.

Unidentified Man Hurt in Gun Battle

Denver, Colo., Aug. 21.—An unidentified man was believed fatally wounded in a gun battle here between guards in the Denver & Rio Grande shops, and a gang of alleged strike sympathizers.

The guards, it is said, opened fire on the men when orders to halt were unheeded.

One of the gang was shot down, but managed to escape. He is believed to have been badly wounded.

Equipment Deteriorating

Washington, Aug. 21.—Rapidly growing deterioration in railroad equipment threatening paralysis of transportation, is causing leading rail executives who wanted a "fight to the finish" in the shopmen's strike to adopt a more conciliatory attitude according to information to government officials.

This is one of the main facts underlying the hopes in administration circles that a settlement of the strike is not far off.

Lignite Coal Supply

St. Paul, Aug. 21.—Stanley Washburn, Minneapolis lignite coal operator in North Dakota fields, today conferred at the capitol with C. P. White, federal fuel administrator. Washburn told White of their North Dakota supply of lignite and asked what steps could be taken that would insure cars to move some of the supply to Minnesota and other northwest states suffering from lack of fuel.

White said today he had received no word on shipments of coal expected on the Great Lakes. He said he believed no definite action on coal shipping will be taken before September 1.

Mr. White received word from Montana coal operators that they will supply fuel if a preferential rate to Minnesota can be obtained.

Farmers Due to Suffer Heavy Losses

Washington, Aug. 21.—Unless the railroad strike is settled within 20 days farmers of the nation will suffer serious and widespread loss because of inability to obtain cars to transport farm products, Senator Borah, of Idaho, today wired Dewitt Cuyler, chair-

INVESTIGATING "MILLION DOLLAR EXPRESS" WRECK

TWO TRAINMEN KILLED, TWO INJURED, ON THE MICHIGAN CENTRAL

TRAIN TRAVELING 60 MILES AN HOUR LEAPED TRACK, CRASH HEARD FOR MILES

(By United Press)

Gary, Indiana, Aug. 21.—Official investigation of the wreck of the "Million dollar express" on the Michigan Central railroad in which two trainmen were killed and two injured, was started today. Officials of the road charged that spikes were withdrawn from the track for a distance of several hundred yards.

C. Katana of Gary was arrested after he is alleged to have remarked "It's a shame they weren't all killed." P. Foote, veteran conductor, stated that if the train had been a passenger instead of an express, scores of lives would have been lost.

One thousand dollars reward was offered by the road for the arrest of persons responsible.

Only eight men were on the train which was composed of 23 cars of perishable freight and express. Every car left the track.

Engineer E. Coy, and Fireman E. Lubbs, both of Niles, Michigan, were buried in the wreckage of the engine, and it was hours before their bodies were recovered.

Two messengers were rushed to the hospital here. The train was traveling at the rate of 60 miles an hour, and the engine jumped the tracks and the cars piled up behind it.

The crash was heard for miles. Thousands of persons walked from Gary to see the wreckage. Conductor Foote was a veteran of the Porter, Indiana wreck in which 40 were killed.

Round Up of Radical Agitators

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Round up of radical agitators in connection with the wreck of the Michigan Central's "million dollar express" at Gary, was imminent today.

Authorities raided the office of William Z. Foster, labor editor, who was recently denied the right to speak in Colorado, and seized hundreds of papers.

Detectives learned that spikes were pulled from the rails which sent 23 express and freight cars into the ditch and killed the engineer and fireman.

An exhaustive examination of

(By United Press.)

St. Paul, Aug. 21.—One man is held at the Central police station today and three others are sought on information of Elmer Mellish, Monkton, N. D., who alleges the men held him up. Mellish said he met four men early today who asked him if he wanted to buy some liquor. He said he did, but refused to give them the money until they delivered the liquor.

"Give us $5 now or we will beat your brains out," said one of the men. Mellish complied. He reported the hold-up to a patrolman who went to the place and found the man whom Mellish alleged took the $5.

A FIGHT TO FINISH IS DUE ON FORDNEY-McCUMBER TARIFF BILL

A REPUBLICAN FACTION IN SENATE LINING UP BEHIND AMERICAN VALUATION

AS ADOPTED BY HOUSE AND OPPOSED TO FOREIGN VALUATION APPROVED BY SENATE

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 21.—The Fordney-McCumber tariff bill passed by the senate after a political battle of four months, passed in the big fight as it went to a conference committee of the senate and house today.

Powerful groups in both houses are lining up for a finish fight on whether the measure should be based on the foreign or the American valuation of imports.

A republican faction in the senate was lining up behind the American valuation system as adopted by the house in contrast with the foreign valuation as approved by the majority of the senate.

"The big battle" said Senator Odde of Nevada, a leading member of the republican farm tariff bloc "will be over the question of American or foreign valuation."

"There is a greatly increasing undercurrent of feeling in favor of the American valuation, and this sentiment is particularly strong among the so called farm and tariff bloc members."

propaganda found in Foster's office was made today. Authorities planned to question agitators whose names appeared on lists.

IMMEDIATE AID FOR LONG NEGLECTED WAR VICTIMS

DEMANDED BY EXECUTIVES OF MINNESOTA AMERICAN LEGION TODAY

"LIVES OF WOUNDED VETERANS SACRIFICED FOR POLITICAL PURPOSES"

JERRY BARRON FOR NEXT COMMANDER

Special to Brainerd Dispatch by Andy Gleriet.
Virginia, Minn., Convention Headquarters, Aug. 21, 2 p. m. —The Legion party is going fine. The Brainerd quartet is making a big hit here and sang at all towns enroute where they got big applause. The roads have been excellent and good time was made in touring to the convention.

It looks like Jerry Barron, former Brainerd boy now an attorney and commander of the Cloquet post, will be the next commander.

Faribault looming up as the Legion convention city for 1923.

Virginia, Aug. 21.—Immediate aid for "long neglected victims of the world war" was demanded by executives of the Minnesota American Legion today.

Commander A. A. VanDyke declared "lives of wounded veterans are being sacrificed for political purposes."

He demanded slashing of red tape and starting a move to eliminate red tape within his own organization. Elimination of needless committees to make a more concise and workable state legion was urged.

More than 2,000 delegates were here for the opening of the state convention this morning. Special trains brought hundreds last night, and hundreds more arrived early today.

Three brass bands and the St. Paul Drum and Bugle corps kept the town awake until the wee small hours this morning. Most noisy was the delegates of the Faribault outfit, making a strong bid for the next annual convention.

The executive committee met Sunday and framed a convention program. The convention probably will:

Demand immediate passage of the soldiers adjusted compensation act. Pass upon the advisability of a state legion publication.

Adopt plans for completion of a hospital at Rochester open to every service man in America.

Condemn the duplicate administration of the U. S. Veterans Bureau under General C. E. Sawyer. Ask the government to provide land for disabled service men now under training to become farmers.

Hannaford MacNider, national commander of the legion, cancelled his engagement for Wednesday, saying he will be unable to reach the convention.

Lemuel Bolles, Seattle, national adjutant and his wife, will be here. Commander VanDyke said he will ask the convention to recommend that the government hospital to be erected at St. Cloud have five hundred beds instead of three hundred and fifty as planned.

MINNESOTA WOMAN TO RUN N. Y. PRISON

DR. ALBERTA GREENE, FERGUS FALLS, WILL TAKE CHARGE IN ABSENCE OF SUPT.

New York, Aug. 21.—Dr. Alberta Greene of Fergus Falls, Minn., has just been appointed physician and assistant superintendent of the state reformatory for women in Bedford and has taken up her arduous task.

She will have to manage the prisoners, who are a hard lot to deal with, when Major Amos T. Baker, the superintendent goes on his vacation soon. Dr. Rhoda Howard resigned rather than assume this responsibility in Major Baker's absence.

Dr. Greene is a former resident of New York state. For a few years she has been physician of the Minnesota state hospital at Fergus Falls. She is a psychiatrist and will be able to classify mentally and treat prisoners. She headed the civil service list. Her salary will be $3,000 a year and maintenance.

FINDS WIFE WEDDED TO HIS BROTHER

SHOOTS BROTHER AND THEN KILLS HIMSELF IN DOMESTIC TRAGEDY

(By United Press.)

Portland, Mich., Aug. 21.—William Hughes, 43, returned here to find the wife he left twenty years ago wedded to his brother David.

Hughes, unlike Enoch Arden, could not reconcile himself to the marriage, and shot and killed his brother and then killed himself. William deserted his wife twenty years ago and went to Alaska as a prospector, according to authorities. He became remorseful and came back to find his wife had obtained a divorce and married his brother. Hughes quarreled with the couple. Mrs. Hughes fled as her former husband pulled the gun. David's daughter Gertrude was slightly wounded by one of the bullets.

SIGHT SEEING PLANE LOST ON ATLANTIC

(By United Press)

Keyport, N. Y., Aug. 21.—The fleet of sea planes roared away from the anchors today and swept low over the surface of lower New York bay and the Atlantic, searching for a sight seeing plane carrying one passenger and two others missing 24 hours. It is feared that if the plane was forced to descend on the water, those aboard will be found dead even though the machine itself is located, as high seas have prevailed all during the period the craft has been missing.

AERO PATROL SERVICE WITH DULUTH AS HEADQUARTERS

MAJOR RAY MILLER TO PATROL MOOSE LAKE, PARK RAPIDS, BEMIDJI, BRAINERD

LIGHT RAIN OF SUNDAY EVENING AND EARLY MONDAY REDUCES FIRE HAZARDS

THE DEADLY LIGHTED CIGARETTE BUTT

The careless casting away of lighted cigaret butts which smoulder for a long time, is believed to have started many forest fires, said Anton Mahlum, who recently put out several fires on his Round lake property, which he believes may have originated this way.

Because of the ever-increasing menace of forest fires in northern Minnesota an aero patrol service, with headquarters in Duluth, and working under the direction of W. T. Cox, state forester, consisting of three planes manned by members of the aero squadron of St. Paul will make daily flights over the fire area starting today.

Ribbon streamers, with notes containing fire fighting suggestions to rangers and settlers and information as to where the greatest danger lies will be dropped at regular intervals by the airmen, Mr. Cox announced.

The fire district will be set off into three areas. District Ranger A. B. Gibbs, in an airplane driven by Lieut. T. G. Williams will cover the east district which includes the Markham country to Hornby and west to Hibbing and back to Duluth. Lieut. R. F. Jerome will pilot the second plane accompanied by H. G. Weber, district supervisor, and will operate from Hornby north to Mesaba east to Greenwood lake and then return to Duluth. Maj. Ray Miller, commanding officer, will cover the territory in the vicinity of Moose Lake, Bemidji, Park Rapids and Brainerd. He will be accompanied by A. E. Pimley, fire prevention director of the Minnesota Forestry service. Mechanics and observers also are in Duluth.

A light rain which began falling in Duluth and vicinity last night will have a decided effect in reducing the danger to a minimum, forestry officials believe. The fires yesterday were fanned by a northeast wind of 15 miles but fire fighters were able to hold their own, preventing spread of the flames.

Fires, burning in an area 1½ miles long were reported at North Island. The Hartley farms are located in this area. The report was made by Major Miller. The flyer also reported fires near Wawina and Grand Rapids. Crews of fire fighters are at these spots. A heavy fog covered Grand Rapids which hampered the flyers in determining the seriousness of the conflagration.

Facing what apparently will be the longest and most serious forest fire season in the history of the state, troops, settlers, veteran foresters and timber cruisers have been recruited for fire prevention and suppression.

One hundred and fifty men, members of Companies E and F, Fifth infantry, stationed at Lake City, also arrived in Duluth yesterday. Several troops of national guardsmen are stationed at Kelsey.

WHY STRIKERS ARE FIRM ON SENIORITY ISSUE

Is Question of "More Profound and Lasting Importance than the Establishment Temporarily of Just Wages and Reasonable Working Conditions," Declares Jewell—Executives' Position Illogical and Unjust, He Says.

(From "Labor," Issue of August 19, 1922)

The attitude of the railroad executives on the question of seniority is "artificial, illogical, and unjust," and an improper assumption of power upon the part of management, declares B. M. Jewell, president of the Railway Employees' Department of the American Federation of Labor, in a comprehensive analysis of the issue upon which the President's peace overtures came to grief.

Mr. Jewell goes carefully into the fundamentals of the seniority question, as well as of the transportation industry, and points out why the men are justified in standing firmly for their rights, which are "of more profound and lasting importance than the establishment temporarily of just wages and reasonable working conditions."

Mr. Jewell's statement follows: The controversies involved in the

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Nordeen, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Nordeen and N. P. Soderlund of Braham, spent the week end with the Edward Anderson family on North 5th street.

An old log jam near the Northwest paper company caught fire and burned for several days last week. It was extinguished before any damage was done to other property.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Stowell of 502 South 6th street are the proud parents of a 9 pound girl born Thursday morning at St. Joseph's hospital. Mother and child are doing nicely.

Mr and Mrs. C. D. Johnson, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Con O'Brien and Giles O'Brien, returned by automobile from the Elks convention in Mankato Saturday night.

Mrs. George Bergreen, of Sauk Centre, formerly of Brainerd where she held the position of head nurse in the Northwestern Hospital, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Anderson. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Erickson and Dr. and Mrs. G. P. Sheridan and son Douglas, motored to Rush City Sunday morning to visit with Mrs. Erickson's mother, Mrs. John Herring.

Water will be shut off west of 4th street on the North side at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday for the purpose of cleaning the water tower. 1t

Miss Grace Stuhr, a nurse at St. Joseph hospital, spent Sunday at the Mrs. Charles Young home in Alitka. She left Monday afternoon for a six weeks vacation in Wadena and the twin cities.

Judge and Mrs. J. T. Sanborn have again taken up their residence in the city, after spending several months at the lakes near Niaswa. The judge is again at his desk greatly rested from his vacation.

The regular meeting of the city council is scheduled for tonight. Routine business will be transacted and probably the matter of a bond issue for sewerage and paving will also come before the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Mal McClaran of Park Rapids were in Brainerd the latter part of last week, and returned to their home accompanied by Mrs. McClaran's sister, Miss Gertrude Smith, who will make an extended visit.

Mrs. R. S. Townsend of Verndale was a week end visitor at the home of her brother, G. M. Lukens and family, and Monday left with Mrs. A. Angel and Mrs. E. J. Moore on an automobile trip to Leroy, where they will visit friends.

F. W. Nevens and wife of Minneapolis and their daughter Mrs. L. P. Allen of Kalspel, Montana drove to Brainerd Saturday and were week-end guests at the home of O. J. Bouma. Mrs. Bouma is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nevens.

Dr. J. A. Thabes has purchased a Buick model 23-six-55 four-passenger sport model from the Ingrand Auto Co. This is a beautiful model finished in maroon, with nickel radiator and trimmings, tan top, and luggage carrier and tourist trunk on the rear.

A missile, which might have been either the bullet from a 22 caliber gun or a small stone, drilled a hole through the large plate glass window of the Brainerd Shoe Repair shop in the old Ingrand garage building, driving the fragments of glass to the rear of the room.

Asabel Curtis, commercial photographer and Mr. Wheeler of the advertising department of the Northern Pacific are in Brainerd taking pictures and writing up this section for the railroad's literature. O. J. Bouma is escorting them to different points of interest today.

J. R. Fornof of the Streeter Free Press Streeter III, paid the Dispatch a visit Monday morning. He is enroute home by way of Duluth, after spending a vacation near Alexandria. Mr. Fornof states that the Free Press is printed on paper made in the Brainerd mill of The Northwest Paper Co.

State checkers are at work checking the traffic on the four main arteries out of Brainerd. There is a crew at the two mile corner on the Gull lake road, one at the four mile corner on Oak street, one on highway 27, to Little Falls. All traffic passing these points will be counted, together with the number of passengers carried.

Farmers Attention! We buy rye, buckwheat, barley and wheat. See us before you sell. Have modern unloading facilities. Dakota Milling Company. 56tf

Foley defeated St. Cloud Sunday at St. Cloud with a score of 4 to 2, in the deciding game of a five game series. Benda of Brainerd played second base for Foley. Morse, a former Brainerd player, was in left field for St. Cloud. Wines on third base and Brandell shortstop. It is estimated that 3,000 people witnessed the game. Eddie Porter, American league pitcher of St. Paul, was on the mound for Foley.

Rev. Arthur C. Smith and family who have been visiting in Cincinnati, Ohio for the past two weeks spent Sunday in Columbus, Ohio where Rev. Smith preached in the first Baptist church both morning and evening. From there they go to Sunday where they will visit for a few days at Mrs. Smith's sisters home, then at Cleveland, Ohio, at the home of Mr. Smith's mother before returning to Brainerd for the first Sunday in September. The Smiths are driving in their car.

Hard to Explain. An inquirer who writes a feminine hand wishes to know why some men marry for a home and then stay away from it.

NEWEST FASHIONS

Left: Much dash and originality is featured in this charming costume of rose and grey. The hand embroidery goes far to make it one of the dressy sports models. Right: White linen of the coarser kind is cleverly combined with brilliantly colored cretonne (of red, green, and orange) but since bright colors enjoy high favor at present, it would seem that these extreme combinations will be worn by those of average quiet taste a bit this season.

WOMAN, 106, MILKS COWS, GETS BREAKFAST

Chicago, Aug. 21—It was 4:30 in the morning. "Well dad," said Mrs. Jimmy Bell of Abrams, Wis., "guess I'd better be about milking those seven cows before I get breakfast ready." And that was exactly the program for opening the day for Mrs. Bell, who is 106 years old, according to word here. "Dad" is 108 years old and still wielding a mean plow. They recently celebrated their 89th wedding anniversary.

The Greatness of Peking. Peking, the Chinese capital, about which the rival armies are now fighting, is in reality three cities in one. There is an inner or Manchuk city, and an outer or Chinese city. The inner comprises the Imperial city, which, in turn, contains the "Forbidden City" or the "Purple Forbidden City" inside the walls of which, again, is the Imperial palace. Peking itself is one of the oldest cities in the world, being known to exist in the Twelfth century before Christ, but although it is of immense size, being 25 miles in circumference, much of the space within the walls is unoccupied.

Brains. World-famous Dr. George W. Crile, who operates as skillfully with one hand as the other, compares the human body to a dry cell, with liver the negative pole, brain the positive.

Anything that affects the liver will also affect the brain, says Crile. Indirectly, therefore, it appears that the intellect is partly in the liver. Sluggish liver frequently is the cause of stupidity. A course in colored sometimes is worth more than a course in school.

Adjusted Boat Motor Two Were Drowned

(By United Press) Fergus Falls, Minn., Aug. 21.—Helen Seech, of Minneapolis, and Ole Haugen, retired farmer of Henning, were drowned in West Leaf lake, near Henning, last night when their boat overturned.

Mr. and Mrs. Iver Bondy, also of Henning, clung to the overturned boat until it drifted ashore.

The boat tipped when Haugen was attempting to adjust the outboard motor, and lost his balance.

5 MINUTE FLIGHT WITH NO MOTOR

Clermont Ferrand, France, Aug. 21.—Bossoutrot, the French gliding champion, broke all records for motorless flight, remaining aloft five minutes and 18 seconds. This is three minutes and two seconds longer than the officially recorded German record, unbroken until today.

BUILD NOW--CONDITIONS FAVOR IT

The best building weather possible can be expected in the next few months, and other conditions as well favor those who need new homes, barns, granaries, corn cribs or other improvements. Next year we look for a much delayed building boom that must supply a lack of homes throughout the country and this means shortage of material and probably higher prices. Build now and avoid any such inconveniences and loss. Right now material and labor are plentiful and capital is freer than for a long time. Take advantage of these conditions. We have plans for the kind of a building you want.

BEST BOOK FOR CHILDREN SELECTED

In the early summer the Social Welfare Committee of the Brainerd Musical Club issued a shopping list recommending some of the best books for children. The list has been endorsed as excellent by the Library Division of the State Department of Education. One of the great helps in strengthening home life is to have good books in the home for the children, for "A book is a friend and a good book is a good friend". Books for the little ones before the school age are especially valuable. They establish companionship with father and mother and prepare the mind for school; also they sow the seeds of ideals at the most impressionable time. The list is gotten up in a most helpful way, listing the books according to the age of the child and giving price and publisher. There is also a valuable list of "Books for Mother". H. P. Dunn of Brainerd is cooperating with the committee and carrying at his drug store a full line of the books recommended, where they can be looked over, purchased or ordered. The committee appreciates very much Mr. Dunn's assistance in bringing within easy reach for the women of Brainerd and the county the opportunity of looking over these books. The list is attractively gotten up and a copy may be obtained at Mr. Dunn's drug store or by writing to the librarian of the public library at Brainerd and enclosing a self addressed stamped envelope.

NORTHWEST NEWS

(By United Press)

American Legion Convention
Virginia, Aug. 21.—A real contest for the office of state commander of the American Legion was in the offing today as delegates met for the annual convention.

Five candidates were ready for the race and caucuses were underway as the first delegation arrived Sunday.

M. P. LaFleur of Two Harbors, Z. L. Begin, Minneapolis, Gerald Barron, Cloquet and Victor Portman of Currie, are all in the running to succeed Dr. A. A. Van Dyke, St. Paul, present commander.

B. D. Grogan, Mankato, and Levi Hall, Minneapolis, have been mentioned as candidates for the national executive committee. Harrison Fuller, former state commander of St. Paul, has also been mentioned for this office.

Mrs. A. O. Clarke, Minneapolis, seemed to have the field largely to herself in the talk of a successor to Mrs. Sandy Hamilton, Minneapolis, president of the Women's Auxiliary, also in convention session.

Hanford McNider, national commander, and a number of other prominent legionnaires, are expected to take part in the convention sessions. State Fair Makes Elaborate Plans to Feed Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Swine and Poultry

Over 250 tons of straw and hay, and 25 tons of grain and mill feed, will be needed to provide "eats" for the horses, cattle, sheep, swine and poultry at the Minnesota State Fair, Sept. 2 to 9.

No exhibitor of stock is to be permitted to bring any feed for his animals to the fair this year. It must all be bought of the forage department. The piling up of hay and grain in big piles in all the barns so increases the fire hazard as to make the policy a dangerous one. It also takes up lots of valuable exhibit space. The fair will sell all its feed on a cost basis, and rigidly enforce a standardized scale of prices for everything.

The forage department," says Superintendent H. L. Elliott, "must be run in about the same way as a delicatessen shop in a big apartment house. Like the proverbial flat-dweller, the stock exhibitor does not have much room for anything, which makes it necessary for him to go shopping for hay and grain two or three times a day. Two bookkeepers, two special clerks, and other assistants, are needed to take care of all the business done."

We will sell more than $10,000 worth of feed during fair week."

Not Yet Too Late To Apply For Compensation

There are a great many former service men who believe that the time limit has expired in which to make application for compensation for service-incurred disabilities. In a statement issued today from the headquarters, District Ten, U. S. Veterans' Bureau, Minneapolis, this is shown to be not true, and we are endeavoring to clear all such doubts in the minds of possible applicants. While August 9, 1922, was the last date to apply for a Certificate of Injury, application for compensation may be made up to "five years from date of discharge." The Certificate of Injury is for the purpose of allowing the man to apply for compensation at any time after this five year period, if his disability should begin to affect him to any appreciable degree. However, if five years have not elapsed since discharge and an ex-service man has a disability now, which, however, may later develop into something of more serious nature, he should forthwith submit an application for compensation. This will make his disability a matter of record, and even though now it may not be rated as of a compensable degree, it will entitle him later on to compensation and hospital treatment if this particular disability grows more serious. Those who failed to apply for the Certificate of Injury can therefore now correct this oversight by making immediate application for compensation.

Orchard and Garden August 22 to 29

Early celery is best bleached with boards or paper. Earth may be used on late celery. Earth is likely to cause early celery to rust and decay.

The new tariff on bulbs will tend to make them higher in price this year. This coupled with the usual loss in forcing, will very materially raise the price of cut flowers next spring.

Buy bulbs now for planting this fall. Tulips, hyacinths and daffodils make good house plants. Tulips and crocuses may be planted in the yard or garden to advantage. Get both Darwin and early flowering sorts.

The highbush cranberry is exceptionally full of fruit this year. Its bright color makes it a worth while shrub. As a rule this fruit will hang on the tree until late in winter and is both ornamental and a good food for birds. The fruit also makes good jelly.

A single flower often looks better in a vase than a large number tightly set. Each flower should have a chance to show its individuality. Never crowd if you would have the best effect.

Take some products to the local fair. Study the products that other people bring and learn the best methods of growing and exhibiting crops. Overgrown specimens of fruits or vegetables no longer take premiums at good fairs. They must be even in color, shape and size, and free from blemishes. There is no excuse for insect or disease marks. Both can be kept off if properly sprayed.

August and September are good months to study gardens and landscape work. September brings out the Autumn colors of fruit and foliage, both of which mean much in a landscape.—Le Roy Cady, associate horticulturist, University Farm, St. Paul, Minnesota.

AT SHRINERS' CEREMONIALS

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carlson Visited Superior on Occasion of Celebration There

Harry Carlson and wife returned Sunday from Superior, Wisconsin, where they attended a two-day Shriner's ceremonial.

The degree was conferred by Tri-Poli Temple of Milwaukee, with two Arab patrols and the temple band, and were assisted by patrols from And temple, Duluth and Osman temple, St. Paul.

179 candidates trod the hot sands on a journey they will long remember. The work was conferred in the Masonic temple, the gymnasium at the State normal, and completed at the fair grounds where a large tent was erected in front of the grandstand in such a way that the spectators in the grandstand witnessed the work carried on in the tent.

It is estimated that five thousand Shriners were in attendance. 800 cars were counted parked at the fairgrounds, beside the number who came out in street cars.

A giant parade ten blocks in length was staged Saturday afternoon, and the shrine dance held both Friday and Saturday evenings. Mr. Carlson stated that the music at these dances was the best he ever heard, so conducive to tripping the light fantastic that even a legless person would have yielded to its influence.

In addition St. Paul temple staged a minstrel show Friday night which eclipsed anything of its kind the Carlsons had ever seen.

4 ALLEGED BANDITS ARRESTED IN ST. PAUL

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, Aug. 21.—Four alleged bandits, arrested here last night, were to be taken to Wabasha today to answer burglary charges.

The men gave their names as Walter Long, Hugh Durhow, Martin Stone and Harry Mawry. In their rooms detectives found burglar equipment.

Talk.

Nineteen billion conversations were carried on over American telephone wires last year. Telephone companies having figured this out, also find that the distance covered by these messages was 45,000,000,000 miles. Six million messenger boys, working nine hours a day, would be required to deliver all the messages that pass over the telephone wires. Forty-six years ago there was only one telephone belonging to Bell, its inventor. It was a crude device compared with the phone you use today. Perfection comes rapidly in our age. Do you remember when you had to turn a crank to attract central's attention?

Growth of the Telephone.

If the telephone calls that were put in last year in the United States alone had been scattered evenly about the earth, every person in every country would have been seven times to the phone—every one of India's troubled millions, of China's and of Africa's, and of the almost countless others in every other land. The wires used in the United States would span the distance of the moon 100 times—would circle the earth 1,000. The army and navy of the United States together number about the same as the employees of the Bell telephone system.

Gasoline in Storage and the Motor Car

MUCH has been said of the enormous stocks of gasoline in storage, but very little has been said of this storage as it compares to the number of cars in commission.

Recent statistics compiled by the American Petroleum Institute comparing the number of motor cars in commission with the amount of gasoline in storage, show that there was less gasoline per car in storage June 1 of this year than at any similar period during the last five years, with the exception of 1920.

Year	Automobiles reg. Jan. 1	Stocks June 1	Gallons per car
1918	4,983,340	460,637,479	92.4
1919	6,146,617	594,035,688	96.6

Average 1918 to 1921			87.2

Notwithstanding the fact that the crude oil production is very heavy at this time, the rapid increase in the production of automobiles and other automotive machinery has created a demand which already is greater than the increased supply.

The current output of the several large refineries of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) supplemented by the reserves now on hand, enables the Company to guarantee that the public shall have a steady, dependable supply of Red Crown Gasoline at its command.

Because of its size, its progressive and efficient management, its ample resources, and unrivaled facilities, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is able to provide the needful amounts of petroleum products to supply the vast demands made upon it. Its manufacturing facilities are planned to anticipate these needs years in advance and always are ready for service. Its constantly expanding distribution system is growing as the need for this service grows. Even in the remote corners of the 10 states served by this Company, the dark green tank wagon is a familiar and welcome visitor.

No matter how the production of crude oil has fluctuated, no matter how urgent the demand nor how limited the supply, motorists will recall that not once in the most stringent emergencies of the past has the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) through any fault of its own, failed to supply their essential needs. This Company has every confidence that its future record of service will be equally satisfactory.

BEST BOOK FOR CHILDREN SELECTED

In the early summer the Social Welfare Committee of the Brainerd Musical Club issued a shopping list recommending some of the best books for children. The list has been endorsed as excellent by the Library Division of the State Department of Education. One of the great helps in strengthening home life is to have good books in the home for the children, for "A book is a friend and a good book is a good friend". Books for the little ones before the school age are especially valuable. They establish companionship with father and mother and prepare the mind for school; also they sow the seeds of ideals at the most impressionable time. The list is gotten up in a most helpful way, listing the books according to the age of the child and giving price and publisher. There is also a valuable list of "Books for Mother". H. P. Dunn of Brainerd is cooperating with the committee and carrying at his drug store a full line of the books recommended, where they can be looked over, purchased or ordered. The committee appreciates very much Mr. Dunn's assistance in bringing within easy reach for the women of Brainerd and the county the opportunity of looking over these books. The list is attractively gotten up and a copy may be obtained at Mr. Dunn's drug store or by writing to the librarian of the public library at Brainerd and enclosing a self addressed stamped envelope.

EMBEZZLEMENT

WHEN a public official pleads guilty to embezzling $258,000 of county funds the announcement takes a prominent place in the headlines of the newspapers but just what reaction it arouses in public sentiment it is not easy to say.

When H. C. Hanke, treasurer of Hennepin county, who was under a $250,000 bond, makes over to the county sufficient property to cover the amount embezzled so that the citizens of the county lose nothing, there is a tendency to mitigate the gravity of the crime. And the frequency of such cases is partly the result of the attitude the public assumes to the guilty.

The fundamental thinking of the past decade or two has led to the too common tendency of magnifying success measured in terms of material wealth. The man who has achieved success and has accumulated a large amount of property has been praised and held up as an example to the youth of the land and no questions have been asked about the methods employed in attaining such prominence. But, as Winston Spencer Churchill said some time ago, society is entitled to ask questions of the wealthy. Such questions, substantially, as these, Where did you get it? and, What are you doing with it? For wealth must not be obtained dishonestly or used harmfully. This much society is entitled to demand, and having made its demand, is then in a position to honor the success which is the reward of honesty, ability and service.

Intelligence and cleverness ought not to affect society's condemnation of crimes, for such attributes of the criminal constitute no grounds on which wrongs may be condoned. The clever person who has reached an honorable place in society and knows its standard of honorable conduct is deserving of more censure than the uneducated and unsocial criminal who preys on others because of a perverted moral sense which causes him to see in society an enemy that seeks to submerge him. But society forgives the clever criminal, even though the law may impose its penalty, and restores him speedily to his former place, sometimes, indeed, lionizing him because of his shrewd manipulations, while the ignorant holdup man is not only imprisoned but ostracized, and sometimes hounded to other criminal acts by the officers of a society which had given him a bad name. And yet deliberately immoral acts are more censurable than uncalculated immoral actions.

In England, when Horatio Bottomley is found guilty of embezzling money, he loses his honorable place in the social life of his country; and in England that can hardly be regained. Perhaps such an attitude is too severe, for forgiveness ought to follow repentance, yet there should be a proper disgust at crimes committed by the intelligent and clever. But not until personal honor is placed much higher in the scale of values than material success, can society expect personal integrity on the part of public officials. If success, measured in terms of material possessions, is placed higher in contemporary thought than personal honor, it is inevitable that men will sacrifice honor as the purchase price of social standing. If a generation could appraise social values as history will measure them, it would place honor first; for history forgets those who merely accumulate and honors its Lincolns.

PUTTING IT UP TO HENRY FORD

WALTER M. MURPHY, county engineer of Crow Wing county, is one of the most ardent workers within the limits of the county in the interest of the county of Crow Wing and the city of Brainerd. Mr. Murphy has proved to be a forward-looking and practical worker by his skill applied to road building, his interest in extending roads, his influence leading to the placing of road signs, and in securing other improvements for the county and city.

After discovering an immense marl deposit, Mr. Murphy does not allow the value of the find to be overlooked but advertises it and seeks to make it serve the county. Not many would have thought of bringing the discovery to the attention of Henry Ford, but knowing the range of Mr. Ford's interests, Mr. Murphy invites Mr. Ford or his representative to come to the county to look over the deposit under his direction. And even though Mr. Ford may not be sufficiently interested in the discovery to go ahead with any development in Crow Wing county, a visit by the automobile manufacturer or his agent, may result in attracting the attention of Mr. Ford to the proximity of Brainerd to the Cuyuna iron range, and to Brainerd's splendid location for manufacturing and smelting purposes.

While in a hundred cases nothing may result from such schemes, the odd chance leads to attracting the attention of large manufacturers to locations which otherwise would be overlooked, and Mr. Murphy is to be congratulated on his initiative whether his hopes of interesting Mr. Ford are or are not realized.

cutives have the authority to rule or ruin the industry according to their unrestricted will. A little consideration of the legal standing of the executives and of the limitations upon their legal authority may destroy a common illusion that they possess, or have the right to exercise, any such arbitrary power.

The railway executives are chosen by the money investors in the railroads as representatives of their interest. They represent the stockholders who have voting power, and they represent the bondholders to the extent that every debtor represents the interests of his creditors. But it is an error to assume that, because the executives represent the money investors they represent the "owners" of the transportation industry.

On the contrary, they represent merely the owners of certain properties which are used in the public service, and which, while necessary for carrying on this service, are of minor importance in comparison with the men who are even more indispensable to the operation of the industry. It was President A. H. Smith, of the New York Central Railroad, who said to the interstate commerce committee of the United States Senate on May 20 1921: "Ninety-five per cent of this railroading is human. The other 5 per cent is merely coal and steel, and it is not worth anything if you do not get good men with it."

No one "owns" the transportation industry. A large part of the physical properties used in furnishing transportation are held in private ownership. But that ownership does not authorize the exercise of complete and unlimited "private rights of property," because the service to which these properties are devoted is a public service, and the rights of any individual to control his property, when it is devoted to a public service, is definitely limited by law.

Democrats May Flibuster

Washington, Aug. 21.—A determined flibuster to delay legislation requested by President Harding for meeting industrial upheaval, was launched by a group of democrats in the house today.

Representative Huddleston, of Alabama, demanded a roll call as soon as the house was called to order, and followed it throughout the afternoon with repeated points of "no quorum" when republicans sought to take up for consideration legislation on the unanimous consent calendar.

The flibuster may delay, but can not prevent action on the president's program as soon as republicans have mustered enough members to guarantee a quorum.

Rain which fell last night and today on the iron range helped the situation some. Most of the fires which have been raging north of Duluth were reported under control this morning.

ROMANCE OF FANEUIL HALL

"Cradle of American Liberty" Was Built by Son of French Huguenot Refugee.

An interesting romance is woven around old Faneuil hall in Boston, often referred to as "the cradle of American Liberty." Andrew Faneuil, a French Huguenot, was driven from home by the revocation of the edict of Nantes. He fled to Holland, and thence to America, and was admitted by the governor and council of Massachusetts Bay colony Feb. 1, 1681. He was an able business man, and became the richest man in the colony through trade in a general store. His fortune passed to his son, Peter, and Peter proved both a practical and public-spirited man. He offered to erect a public market building at his own expense if the town would provide proper regulation. The farmers, accustomed to peddle from house to house, opposed this plan, but it passed by a majority of the 727 votes cast.

Peter Faneuil did more than he had promised, for in addition to the market he built a second story with a hall for town meetings and other pub-

EARLY SETTLER POMPOUS

Pioneer Colonist in America Seemed to Lack the Saving Sense of Humor.

A persistent respect for the pomps and vanities of feudalism with its distinction of classes and its conventions of respectful observance was held by the early settlers in the American wilderness. They showed a curious lack of a saving sense of humor. When the first settlement at Jamestown was starving, Sir Thomas Gates, on relinquishing his authority, fired a salute from the fort, and made his departure like a king abandoning his realm. De la Warr, arriving a few days later, landed with a flourish of trumpets and a procession, with banners borne before him. When he went to church he was attended by an escort in red cloaks and a guard of 50 men, although there were not more than 200 in the colony.

When the Puritans, a people who were supposed to have laid aside the pomps and vanities, went to church, they were summoned to Captain Standish's door by the roll of a drum. Each man wore a cloak and carried a musket on his shoulder. They fell in three abreast, led by a sergeant, and behind this escort strode Elder Brewster with Captain Standish strutting stiffly at his side, with a sword in scabbard and bearing a cane or wand as an emblem of his authority.

Whitman Had a Checkered Career.

Walt Whitman began his career as an errand boy in a lawyer's office and tried in turn working in a printer's office, teaching in a country school and editing the Brooklyn Eagle. He founded and edited his own paper, the Long Islander, but gave it up and tried building and selling small houses in Brooklyn.

During this checkered career, Whitman was continually writing poetry, and finally in 1855 he published a small book containing a collection of his poems, under the title of "Leaves of Grass." It was characterized by Emerson as "the most extraordinary piece of wit and wisdom that America had yet contributed."

Whitman's life was a poet's life—free, unhurried, unworldly, unconventional, unselfish, cheerful, optimistic, and it was contentedly and joyously lived.

What Pinckney Really Told France. When John Jay, in 1796, made his famous treaty with England, which threatened to involve the United States in a war with France, the Directory would not receive the American ambassador, Charles Cotesworth Pinckney, but intimated that the payment of a certain sum might settle the dispute. Pinckney is said to have indignantly answered for the now historical phrase: "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute." It is said, however, that long afterward, when Pinckney was asked in his club whether he had ever uttered it, he replied: "No. My answer was not a flourish like that, but simply, 'Not a penny, not a penny.'"

EMBEZZLEMENT

WHEN a public official pleads guilty to embezzling $258,000 of county funds the announcement takes a prominent place in the headlines of the newspapers but just what reaction it arouses in public sentiment it is not easy to say.

When H. C. Hanke, treasurer of Hennepin county, who was under a $250,000 bond, makes over to the county sufficient property to cover the amount embezzled so that the citizens of the county lose nothing, there is a tendency to mitigate the gravity of the crime. And the frequency of such cases is partly the result of the attitude the public assumes to the guilty.

The fundamental thinking of the past decade or two has led to the too common tendency of magnifying success measured in terms of material wealth. The man who has achieved success and has accumulated a large amount of property has been praised and held up as an example to the youth of the land and no questions have been asked about the methods employed in attaining such prominence. But, as Winston Spencer Churchill said some time ago, society is entitled to ask questions of the wealthy. Such questions, substantially, as these, Where did you get it? and, What are you doing with it? For wealth must not be obtained dishonestly or used harmfully. This much society is entitled to demand, and having made its demand, is then in a position to honor the success which is the reward of honesty, ability and service.

Intelligence and cleverness ought not to affect society's condemnation of crimes, for such attributes of the criminal constitute no grounds on which wrongs may be condoned. The clever person who has reached an honorable place in society and knows its standard of honorable conduct is deserving of more censure than the uneducated and unsocial criminal who preys on others because of a perverted moral sense which causes him to see in society an enemy that seeks to submerge him. lic functions. On August 27, 1765, the first mass meeting of protest against the stamp act took place in the hall. The meetings to protest against the tea tax were held in the hall in 1773, and the result was the Boston Tea Party of December 16. When Lafayette visited the building in 1824, he said: "May Faneuil Hall stand forever, a monument to teach the world that resistance to oppression is a duty, and will under true republican institutions become a blessing."

SURVEYING NEW ROUTE TO RANGE

When Data is All Compiled State Highway Department will Give Decision in Matter

NO. 2 MAY BE RE-ROUTED

Plans Also Made for Both Overhead and Underground Crossing at N. P. Railway

Mr. Schultz of St. Paul, surveyor for the State Highway department, is in the city with a crew of nine men for the purpose of surveying the road from Brainerd to Ironton.

The crew is working on several plans to re-route Highway No. 2, which leaves Brainerd by way of Lum park. This would materially shorten the distance to the range, and do away with two very dangerous railway crossings.

Another route under consideration lies east of the present highway and north of the railroad. It is laid out to strike Oak street at the three mile corner. The survey includes plans for both an overhead railway crossing and an underground crossing.

Saturday night Mr. Schultz and his men sampled our tourist camp site, and pronounced it a very good night control. He has also made an examination of the Guil lake road and has reported its bad condition to his department.

The origin of the fire is a mystery.

POULTRY MARKETING MEETINGS ANNOUNCED

County Agent E. G. Roth announces two important poultry marketing meetings, one to be held at Pequot, August 30th, the other at Crosby, August 31st.

The program in each place includes an automobile tour to the different poultry farms and the culling of flocks at each stop.

The meetings will be held each afternoon and will be in charge of O. O. Horlamus, a prominent poultry specialist.

Mr. Horlamus has charge of the marketing of poultry for five hundred poultry raisers in Wisconsin.

These five hundred are veterans of the world war, whom the government has helped to obtain land, and each has gone into the chicken farming business.

It will be to the interests of all poultry raisers in the county to attend one of these two meetings and hear Mr. Horlamus.

WOMAN TO APOLOGIZE OR LOSE HER SHARE IN $1,000,000 ESTATE

Muskegon, Mich., Aug. 21—Mrs. Gertrude Gilmore of New York must decide whether she will make a written apology to her brother, Bud Archie Linderman, multimillionaire, for alleged wrongs, or lose one-fourth interest in her mother's estate of a million dollars.

The will of Mrs. Ella Linderman of Whitehall, just filed, brings out for the first time the family quarrel over the division of the property of the Linderman Steel & Machine company of Muskegon, at the time of the death of the father, Albert T. Linderman.

In a codicil written by Mrs. Linderman in 1919 at Los Angeles, she cuts her daughter from the will for "trying to ruin the family through unjust persecution of her brother, Archie."

In a second codicil, written in 1921, Mrs. Linderman specified that her daughter must make a written apology acceptable to her brother, admitting her satisfaction with the division of the stock of the company or lose her share in the estate. There are four heirs to the estate.

NEW HOMES BUILD- ING IN BRAINERD

Fred Luken Building on North 7th, Charles W. Mahlum in "Codyville"

Several new homes are being started in the city. Joseph Springer, engineer on the Minnesota and International railway, is building on the lot adjoining O. A. Peterson on North 7th street.

Fred Luken of the Luken variety store is building on his lots on the North of the A. G. Trommald home, also on 7th street north.

Mr. Luken disposed of the house which originally stood on this site to Sidney Parker, who moved it on to his lots north of Barker residence on North 8th street, where he is remodeling it and will soon have it for rent.

This addition to the already full building program being carried out in Brainerd this season helps to cut down the housing problem and adds to the appearance of our city.

Charles W. Mahlum, county auditor, is building a splendid home on the bank of the Mississippi river, just north of the Beale residence in Codyville.

LAKE SIDE LOTS ON MILLE LACS

Sandum's Vineland Bay Addition Platted by K. O. Sandum, Meet With a Ready Sale

NEAR AUTOMOBILE HIGHWAY

As High as 70 Cars an Hour Pass—Cool Breezes Wafted Along the Lake Shore

Sandum's Vineland Bay addition is the name of a new plat of lakeside lots on the southwest shore of Mille Lacs lake. This is quite an extensive plat, having a mile and a quarter of lake frontage.

The majority of the lots are going to groups of business men in small towns near the lake, to Twin City residents and to tourists.

K. O. Sandum has been keeping count of the number of automobiles passing his property, and reports that as high as seventy cars per hour have passed in twelve successive hours. Part of this number of course are tourists, but many others take the lake drive to get the cool lake breeze that the long shore drive makes possible.

Mr. Sandum is planning an extensive advertising campaign for next season, part of which includes signboards along the main trunk highways in this state and in adjoining states that are not so well endowed with beautiful lakes, timber and summer playgrounds as we are.

This company also deals in city property and farm lands, and reports that extensive trading has been done in these lines. Prices on property is practically forgotten, Mr. Sandum states that the value seems to be based on how badly the buyer wants the land in preference to his own.

It is predicted that next year will see a great deal of business done in land, and more improvements made by real estate owners.

WHEN AND HOW TO SELECT SEED CORN

Seed Corn Time in Minnesota, Sept. 10 to 20.

"Seed corn should be selected in the field as the plants are maturing," says A. C. Army of the division of farm crops and farm management of the state university, in a new special bulletin entitled, "Corn Raising in Minnesota."

"The best time to pick the seed ears," continues Mr. Army, "is when the leaves of the plant are still green, the husks beginning to turn yellow, and the ears well dented. When the seed ears are selected from the plants as they are maturing, the choice can be made on a sound basis to maintain or increase the yielding power of the variety, and diseased plants can be recognized and avoided. At the same time, the corn is gathered early enough so it can be cured without danger of injury by freezing."

The bulletin deals with all phases of corn growing under the general headings of essentials for higher yields, good seed, soil preparation, cultivation and stand. The author stresses the importance of making the plant the basis of seed corn selection. "Effective selection of seed ears from husked corn is impossible," he says.

BRAINERD FRUIT CO. 3RD ANNUAL PICNIC

27 in Party Including Families and Close Friends of the Employees Gather at Grand View

DINNER AN EXCELLENT ONE

Rain in Afternoon Did Not Dampen Spirits, Supper Staged at Company Warehouse in City

The employees of the Brainerd Fruit company held their third annual picnic Sunday at Grand View lodge, which broke all previous records, which broke all previous records should excel in.

Twenty-seven were in the party, which included families and close friends of the employees. The program included races, both land and water, boating, bathing and fishing, and a picnic dinner that never will be forgotten.

The large lunch "Queen" had been chartered for a trip around the lake, but through some misunderstanding, failed to make its appearance. Henry Tomlinson took the prize for the best catch of pike.

And the dinner! Besides the regular bill of fare for such occasions, the menu included a case of cantaloupe, five gallons of ice cream, three cases of pop, one case of cracker-jack and watermelons for all.

The rain in the afternoon did not dampen the spirits of the party in the least. They simply loaded everything and drove back to town, and completed the festivities in the company's large warehouse. Here large tables were set for supper, and following that the walls shook from the singing lead by Manager Ebert, who received his training along that line at the Rotary club luncheons.

Much praise for the success of the picnic is due Mr. Baker who extended the courtesies of Grand View lodge and to Mr. Ebert for carrying the event to such a successful completion.

GIRL'S "WILL TO DIE" DEFEATING PHYSICIANS

Chicago, Aug. 21—The "will to die" of Miss Elsie Haydon, aged 29, will defeat efforts of medical science to force her to live physicians said. The girl took 30 poison tablets when Jacob Kramer, who she loved, taunted her with a rival and even called another girl over the telephone in the presence of Miss Haydon.

The girl was taken to a hospital and the effect of the poison, through early treatment, has been entirely counteracted, according to Dr. Louis C. Sondel.

"But our efforts are useless until the girl desires to live," Dr. Sondel said.

"VETS" TO GET JOBS

After training the Government is going one step further to carry out its obligation to the disabled ex-service man. A new Department of the U. S. Veterans Bureau, known as the Employment Service, has been established, charged with the following duties.

- (1) To procure employment opportunities.
- (2) To establish all necessary contact to accomplish this purpose.
- (3) To follow up the rehabilitated veteran on the job for the purpose of assisting him to meet the difficulties in his new position.
- (4) To promote the good will of the public towards the rehabilitated disabled veteran.

This latter phase would seem the easiest part—but not so. The average calculating man must be "shown" the value of a prospective employee. Given the chance, Uncle Sam's trained service man can surpass in value the average man on the job. His disability can be forgotten where consideration is given his employment. His handicap has previously been taken into account and he has been trained into a vocation where the handicap has been nullified as far as that particular work is concerned.

SURVEYING NEW ROUTE TO RANGE

When Data is All Compiled State Highway Department will Give Decision in Matter

NO. 2 MAY BE RE-ROUTED

Plans Also Made for Both Overhead and Underground Crossing at N. P. Railway

Mr. Schultz of St. Paul, surveyor for the State Highway department, is in the city with a crew of nine men for the purpose of surveying the road from Brainerd to Ironton.

The crew is working on several plans to re-route Highway No. 2, which leaves Brainerd by way of Lum park. This would materially shorten the distance to the range, and do away with two very dangerous railway crossings.

Another route under consideration lies east of the present highway and north of the railroad. It is laid out to strike Oak street at the three mile corner. The survey includes plans for both an overhead railway crossing and an underground crossing.

Saturday night Mr. Schultz and his men sampled our tourist camp site, and pronounced it a very good night control. He has also made an examination of the Guil lake road and has reported its bad condition to his department.

FOREST FIRE DAMAGE

Swept Thursday and Friday on Part of Shore Line Near I. C. Strout's Cottage Round Lake

Fire on Thursday and Friday swept along a section of Round Lake and came within 15 feet of I. C. Strout's cottage. Mr. and Mrs. Strout, the former's brother and Mr. and Mrs. Anton Mahlum battled the flames and saved the lake cottage from destruction. The flames crept to within 15 feet of the home. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

POULTRY MARKETING MEETINGS ANNOUNCED

County Agent E. G. Roth announces two important poultry marketing meetings, one to be held at Pequot, August 30th, the other at Crosby, August 31st.

The program in each place includes an automobile tour to the different poultry farms and the culling of flocks at each stop.

The meetings will be held each afternoon and will be in charge of O. O. Horiemus, a prominent poultry specialist.

Mr. Horiemus has charge of the marketing of poultry for five hundred poultry raisers in Wisconsin.

These five hundred are veterans of the world war, whom the government has helped to obtain land, and each has gone into the chicken farming business.

It will be to the interests of all poultry raisers in the county to attend one of these two meetings and hear Mr. Horiemus.

WOMAN TO APOLOGIZE OR LOSE HER SHARE IN $1,000,000 ESTATE

Muskegon, Mich., Aug. 21—Mrs. Gertrude Gilmore of New York must decide whether she will make a written apology to her brother, Bud Archie Linderman, multimillionaire, for alleged wrongs, or lose one-fourth interest in her mother's estate of a million dollars.

The will of Mrs. Ella Linderman of Whitehall, just filed, brings out for the first time the family quarrel over the division of the property of the Linderman Steel & Machine company of Muskegon, at the time of the death of the father, Albert T. Linderman.

In a codicil written by Mrs. Linderman in 1919 at Los Angeles, she cuts her daughter from the will for "trying to ruin the family through unjust persecution of her brother, Archie."

In a second codicil, written in 1921, Mrs. Linderman specified that her daughter must make a written apology acceptable to her brother, admitting her satisfaction with the division of the stock of the company or lose her share in the estate. There are four heirs to the estate.

NEW HOMES BUILD- ING IN BRAINERD

Residents Justify Their Faith in Brainerd by Putting up Finest Structures

JOSEPH SPRINGER ON N. 7TH ST.

Fred Luken Building on North 7th, Charles W. Mahlum in "Codyville"

Several new homes are being started in the city. Joseph Springer, engineer on the Minnesota and International railway, is building on the lot adjoining O. A. Peterson on North 7th street.

Fred Luken of the Luken variety store is building on his lots on the North of the A. G. Trommald home, also on 7th street north.

Mr. Luken disposed of the house which originally stood on this site to Sidney Parker, who moved it on to his lots north of Barker residence on North 8th street, where he is remodeling it and will soon have it for rent.

This addition to the already full building program being carried out in Brainerd this season helps to cut down the housing problem and adds to the appearance of our city.

Charles W. Mahlum, county auditor, is building a splendid home on the bank of the Mississippi river, just north of the Beale residence in Codyville.

SARAZEN WANTS THE "BIG ONES"

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 21.—Gene Sarazen, the twenty-one year old American open golf champion, is good with golf sticks and he knows it.

He is a cocky youngster with all the confidence, the enthusiasm and energy that an American youth carries into sports.

There is nothing of the enlarged cranium apparent in his speech or actions, however. What symptoms he shows of liking his own game are not inordinate. They are but the tendencies of a winning temperament that make him the champion that he is.

Recently one of the clubs around New York offered Sarazen $500 for an exhibition match and gave him the privilege of selecting his opponent.

He surprised the club officials by asking them to get Jim Barnes for his opponent.

Joe Kirkwood, the Australian trick shot artist, was kidding the young champion about it.

"Kinda pick 'em big, don't you, Gene," he asked.

"Well, it'd be better to be knocked off by Barnes than some little bird, wouldn't it?" Sarazen replied.

In Walter Hagen, the American winner of the British open championship, and Sarazen the United States has two champions who are a credit to themselves, to the game and to the nation.

Both stepped into fame graciously and both minimized their success with the statements that they had all the good breaks and their opponents went down through hard luck.

While the preponderance of evidence shows youth to be coming into supremacy in all sports some old fellow is always stepping up to take a sock at the old theory.

"Reb" Russell, the old White Sox pitcher, who had been cut out of the record books, is back again doing big things in the Pittsburgh outfield. He is batting fiercely, hitting plenty of home runs and fielding fine.

When the pressure becomes great enough, John McGraw may call upon Amos Rusie to do a little pitching for the Giants. Amos keeps stowaways from getting into the grounds at night and he might be able to keep a game from getting out of the park.

If you like to be one of the discoverers of champions, just tell the boys to keep their eyes on Emil Loeffler, the young Pittsburgh holder of the Pennsylvania state open golf championship. 'Tis said he is going large in the coming amateur fracas.

Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul light heavyweight, who has been taking it easy since he lost the decision to Harry Greb in their last fight, is ready to get back in the ring.

Gibbons wants another crack at the light heavyweight crown which Greb is wearing and he is willing to take on a stiff bout to prove that he is entitled to a return engagement.

Gene Tunney, former champion, and Gibbons have both challenged Greb through the New York state boxing commission and Gibbons suggests that he and Tunney meet to decide the challenger.

Very fair proposition and the commission is in favor of it. Tunney, perhaps, is not.

CUBS AND GIANTS CAUSE STAMPEDE FOR TICKETS—MARKS RECOVERY FROM SCANDAL

Chicago, Aug. 21.—Chicago is baseball crazy, after a lapse of four years. The rush for tickets for the Cubs-Giants games with long lines extending from the ticket windows early in the day, recalled the days when Frank Chance had the Cubs up in the pennant race.

Interest in the game in Chicago dropped after the 1919 world series scandal. Attendance has slumped at both the Sox and Cubs parks.

But this remarkable showing by both teams this year, after they had doped to spend the season in the second division, has reawakened interest.

The largest weekday crowd in the history of the Cubs park witnessed the first Giant-Cub game and the largest Sunday crowd on record was on hand.

Valuable Sea Creatures.
The walrus furnishes about 1,500 pounds of meat, 1,000 pounds of oil and 500 pounds of leather, and the white whale furnishes much more.

AMUSEMENTS

Bert Lytell Hurt in Screen Fight
Individuals who have complained that screen fights are usually of a pink tea variety will find a fast encounter after their own hearts in Bert Lytell's new Metro picture, "The Right That Failed," now showing at the Lyceum theatre.

Baryard Veiller who directed the picture and the athletic Bert staged a ring contest that left the star bruised and out of action for several days. But Bert also managed to inflict some effective punishment on his screen opponent, William Elmer, a professional fighter.

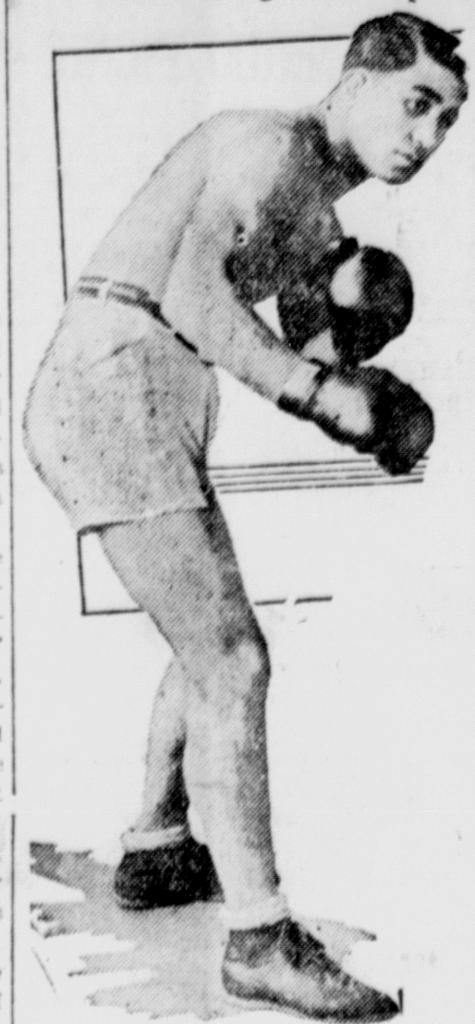

George Blake, who was one of the army's corps of athletic trainers during the war, was referee and consulting expert for the bout. "Spiki" Robinson acted as second for Elmer, and several hundred fight fans occupied arena seats in the stand that had been erected for the purpose in one of Metro's big enclosed stages at Hollywood.

The fight had to be screened twice. Mr. Veiller, saying that fights may easily be "too exciting," explains why.

"I told Bert to go in and punch the head off that 'pug'" he said, "and I told Elmer not to be afraid of knocking Bert through the window. Both obeyed instructions so well that it became a real knockdown fight. They were mad. They forgot all about the signals I had arranged and tore at each other like wildcats. Everyone was yelling at them. And then Arthur Martinelli, the cameraman, got so excited he stopped grinding. I tore the bruised battlers apart. But, while it was a whole of a fight, we had to film it over again to follow the scenario. Too exciting!"

"The Right That Failed" is an adaptation by Lenore Coffee of J. P. Marquand's Saturday Evening Post story.

May Become Recognized Featherweight Champion

JOHNNY DUNDEE

Johnny Dundee, acclaimed champion by the New York State Boxing Commission because of Kilbane's failure to defend his title, may now be recognized generally. His knock-out of Danny Frush has won him many admirers who claim he can defeat Kilbane.

BABE RUTH PULLS DRAMATIC HOMER AS YANKEES WIN

WITH PALE HOSE LEADING IN NINTH BAMBINO SMASHES 4 BASE HIT FOR 3 RUNS

New York, Aug. 20.—A dramatic home run by Babe Ruth with Witt and Dugan on base in the ninth inning enabled the New York Americans to make it three straight from Chicago, 7 to 5. Ruth had a day of ups and downs. In the first inning he hit a home run with Dugan on base, but handed these two runs back to Chicago in the third when his muff enabled Falk and McClellan to score. Ruth struck out in the third and beat out a bunt in the fifth, only to be caught napping. His second home run in the ninth won the game for New York. At the end of the game a crowd surged on the field and carried Ruth off on its shoulders. Ruth has hit four home runs in the last three days, and has advanced to 26. Mays was hit hard in the early innings, but Hoyt, who relieved him, held Chicago scoreless in the last six innings. Center Fielder Strunk of Chicago was put out of the game in the ninth inning for throwing dust at Umpire Hildebrand.

Score— R. H. E.
Chicago.....302 000 000—5 10 0
New York.....201 000 103—7 11 1
Batteries—Faber and Schalk; Mays, Hoyt and Schang.

WE WELCOME SMALL ADVERTISERS BECAUSE THEY SOON GROW INTO BIG ONES.

SARAZEN WANTS THE "BIG ONES"

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 21.—Gene Sarazen, the twenty-one year old American open golf champion, is good with golf sticks and he knows it.

He is a cocky youngster with all the confidence, the enthusiasm and energy that an American youth carries into sports.

There is nothing of the enlarged cranium apparent in his speech or actions, however. What symptoms he shows of liking his own game are not inordinate. They are but the tendencies of a winning temperament that make him the champion that he is.

Recently one of the clubs around New York offered Sarazen $500 for an exhibition match and gave him the privilege of selecting his opponent.

He surprised the club officials by asking them to get Jim Barnes for his opponent.

Joe Kirkwood, the Australian trick shot artist, was kidding the young champion about it.

"Kinda pick 'em big, don't you, Gene," he asked.

"Well, it'd be better to be knocked off by Barnes than some little bird, wouldn't it?" Sarazen replied.

In Walter Hagen, the American winner of the British open championship, and Sarazen the United States has two champions who are a credit to themselves, to the game and to the nation.

Both stepped into fame graciously and both minimized their success with the statements that they had all the good breaks and their opponents went down through hard luck.

While the preponderance of evidence shows youth to be coming into supremacy in all sports some old fellow is always stepping up to take a sock at the old theory.

"Reb" Russell, the old White Sox pitcher, who had been cut out of the record books, is back again doing big things in the Pittsburgh outfield. He is batting fiercely, hitting plenty of home runs and fielding fine.

When the pressure becomes great enough, John McGraw may call upon Amos Rusie to do a little pitching for the Giants. Amos keeps stowaways from getting into the grounds at night and he might be able to keep a game from getting out of the park.

If you like to be one of the discoverers of champions, just tell the boys to keep their eyes on Emil Loeffler, the young Pittsburgh holder of the Pennsylvania state open golf championship. 'Tis said he is going large in the coming amateur fracas.

Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul light heavyweight, who has been taking it easy since he lost the decision to Harry Greb in their last fight, is ready to get back in the ring.

Gibbons wants another crack at the light heavyweight crown which Greb is wearing and he is willing to take on a stiff bout to prove that he is entitled to a return engagement.

Gene Tunney, former champion, and Gibbons have both challenged Greb through the New York state boxing commission and Gibbons suggests that he and Tunney meet to decide the challenger.

Very fair proposition and the commission is in favor of it. Tunney, perhaps, is not.
